MENTAL HEALTH AND RETURN- TO-WORK COORDINATION

A Workshop on Strategy

Professional return-to-work (RTW) coordination is increasingly seen as a solution to management of difficult work injury situations. At this half-day interactive workshop, we will:

- Share our research findings on RTW Coordinators' key strategies for managing RTW and mental health
- Consider specific problems and ways to manage them
- Discuss the content of a practical guide for stakeholders

The workshop will be of interest to RTW practitioners, workplace professionals, insurers, workers' compensation professionals, labour, and workers. By the end of the workshop, participants will have a developed understanding of how RTW coordination should proceed for clients with common mental health issues.

If you have any questions, please contact the project coordinator Katya McKnight at e2mcknight@uwaterloo.ca or 519-888-4567, ext. 37031. This research project is led by Drs. Ellen MacEachen, Elena Neiterman and Cindy Malachowski, and is based at the University of Waterloo.
